What is a MRI?

A MRI scan produces dimensional images by using a large magnet and radio waves. It is a way of looking inside the body without using x-rays. A strong magnetic field is created and a radio frequency is beamed into that magnetic field. Measurements of energy from the tissue being scanned are sent to the computer where the screen image will be recorded. Your MRI scan will take approximately 45 minutes.

Preparation:

You may eat and drink before the exam and take your medications.

Patients who are claustrophobic may require oral sedation prior to the MRI scan. Please contact your physician and discuss the use of medication that can be taken at home before the exam. Be aware that you must have someone to drive you to and from the hospital if you are pre-medicated.
